FAITH-BASED EXECUTIVE SEARCH MANAGEMENT PARTNERS

NONPROFIT+

NONPROFITS

Nonprofit leaders must be able to serve the mission of the organization while leading their business into the future.

CHURCHES

Churches need visionary leaders that can build the organization according to their biblical vision.

K-12 ACADEMICS

K-12 academics need leaders that understand the unique needs of the school, students, faculty, and staff.

FaithSearch Partners' NonProfit+ practice serves the needs of nonprofits, ministries, churches, and K-12 academic organizations by securing differential Christian leadership that will make a longterm impact on their organization and the populations they serve. Mission-driven organizations that focus on helping others require mission-focused leadership. Just as it takes a special leader to run a nonprofit, a special executive search firm is needed to find and secure the right leaders for each individual nonprofit organization.

We are uniquely positioned to lead your nonprofit executive search because like you, we've dedicated our lives to serving others. Our NonProfit+ consultants bring 100+ years of executive search experience to clients who are drawn to our commitment to delivering candidates with equal parts proven leadership experience and deep alignment with your organizational mission, values, and culture.

We know nonprofit work. We excel at executive search.
And we live our faith.

Not only do all the members of our team who work on search engagements have executive search experience, they have also served nonprofits, ministries, churches, and K-12 academic roles.

We've been a leader in the faith-based executive search space for the last 15 years and that is directly attributable to our people and our faith. We don't believe in hiring search consultants and teaching them your industry. We believe in hiring experienced professionals from your industry and teaching them executive search.
